

Introducing....

The Green Kids In Your Classroom Workshop Series

Ebb & Flo : The Water Cycle

Green Kids Inc. has been touring eco-minded theatre across Canada since 1991. We have performed for over 1,000 schools and 1,000,000 students.

Now we're bringing environmental education into Manitoba classrooms for a more personal, interactive learning experience.

Inspired by the Manitoba Science Curriculum, Green Kids' love of theatrics, and Mother Nature herself, these workshops will lead students on an exploration of current issues involving our world's water.

From where it comes from (glaciers, storm clouds and oceans) to what it goes through (aquifers, forests and even our bodies), we'll have a look at how we as people are affecting its cycles and the changes we need to make to ensure a clean glass of water is something we can all enjoy for generations to come.

Here's how it works:

Green Kids will send two Workshop Instructors to your school. They will work separately with one classroom each at a time. Workshops for Grades 3 and 4 are one hour in length. Workshops for Grades 5 through 8 are two hours in length. We can spend a half- or a full-day at your school : You decide who we see and when.

Ebb & Flo : The Water Cycle Workshop Series has been created to appeal and adapt to students of all levels of experience with environmental science and with drama.

For the students: workshops are fun, dynamic and interactive, blending science and drama to bring to life some of today's biggest environmental issues.

For the teachers: inviting a Green Kids Workshop Facilitator into your classroom will provide an excellent professional development opportunity, demonstrating the use of drama as a vehicle for exploring science. We will also leave you with copies of the Ebb & Flo Educator's Kit. A companion to both the play and the classroom workshops, this 50 page book is resource and inspiration to continue learning about water with your class.
